TOURIST

Appomattox County has the opportunity to increase its travel business as well as the leadership to work hard to get this business.

The income from tourist business in Virginia has increased rapidly over the years. Last year it was estimated that $650 million was derived from tourist trade in Virginia. Income from tourists flows into every business in the community. The breakdown is as follows:

Food	28c	Entertainment	8c
Lodging	22c	Tires, Etc.	3c
Gas & Oil	19c	Retail Stores	20c

The Appomattox Court House National Histional Historical Park visitors over the past few years were as follows:

1957	86,000	1960	124,331
1958	78,500	1961	156,363
1959	98,500

The Division of Public Relations and Advertising conducted a survey, the first being among tourist authorities. They were asked to list in order the twenty-five most popular attractions in Virginia. 46% of the questionnaires were returned — Appomattox ranked number twelve on the list of popular attractions in Virginia. The second survey was conducted among travel editors and travel newspaper writers. 23% of these questionnaires were returned — Appomattox ranked 11th in the opinion of the writers and editors.

There are other attractions in our area other than the National Park. Among these are Holiday Lake which has just this year added seventeen camp sites for trailer and tent parking. Camping is on the boom in Virginia. Possibly some additional camp sites would help to bring in vacationers.

It is necessary if we want to increase the trade and hold it that we organize on a permanent basis to get continuing results. We should not try to do this on a voluntary basis as we need someone with the proper time and know-how to do the work.

The Town and County governments might finance this through 1965 as a pilot project. Then perhaps the business people could take it over and operate as a Chamber of Commerce after 1965.

In connection with our plans for 1965, Mr. White said he felt sure the Virginia Civil War Commission would render all the help and assistance they possibly could in this regard.
